UNIQUE CANE

Bearing Name of Every Governor of Kentucky is Presented to Governor Wilson

Judge T. L. Edelen has presented to Governor Wilson an odd cane, which was carved by J. M. Hendrick of Georgetown.

The cane contains the names of every Governor of Kentucky from Shelby down to Wilson, each name being carved on the cane by hand with a penknife.

The only name missing from the list is that of William Goebel.

Mr. Hendrick carved the cane, which has a handsome head, and intended it to be used by any Governor who is in the Executive Chair. The presentation was made by Judge Edelen, and Governor Wilson thanked him for the thoughtfulness of the man who carved it.

An original poem party given by a literary hostess was a success. Each guest contributed an original poem, and these were read aloud and the name of the writer guessed.

SEPTEMBER OMENS.

September's birthstone is the sapphire and stands for constancy, truth and virtue. Here is a little verse for the September girl:

"A maiden born when September leaves Are rustling in September's breeze.
A sapphire on her brow should bind;
'Twill cure diseases of the mind."

September's flower is the morning glory, and seems hardly appropriate, because it means affection.

September is a favorite month for weddings. The oracles say that it is, on the whole, quite safe to get married in September. The sixteenth, eighteenth and twentieth days of the month are especially auspicious.

Men of Taste Have Found Our Display of Fall Suits

Of unusual interest. Our lines comprise every color and cloth desired by men, young men and boys who are intelligent dressers. Colors are prominently in evidence this season. The young man with ideas of fashion will have little trouble making selection; so will the man with quiet taste find a wide display to suit him.

A word about our Men's and Boys' Shoes: Before we embarked in the shoe business we investigated among the leading best lines in the country. That we were wise in our selection is proven by our daily increasing shoe business. We believe we are the only shoe people in Maysville that guarantee satisfactory wear or "money returned" on all shoes except patent and shiny leathers. Hanan, Douglas and Walkover—no other house in the State that carries those three lines.

Great choosing, for waist and skirt lengths and enough for children's entire frocks will be found in the dress goods, and equally useful lengths among the other remnants.

THERE is $1,000,000,000 worth of property in New York exempt from taxation. More than twice the value of all Kentucky property.

THE Boyle county man who went crazy from drinking too much Indiana whisky deserved his fate. There is no excuse to drink the nasty doctored stuff when the pure unadulterated article can be had right at home.—Frankfort Journal.

BRYAN must be amazed at the audacity of ex-Governor FRANCIS of Missouri, in announcing that he (FRANCIS, not BRYAN,) aspires to the Democratic nomination in 1912.

HENRY WATTERSON, Chairman of the Newspaper Committee of the Democratic campaign, has made public his Press Committee of Advisement. It is noted that Ohio is not on the list. Does this mean that Ohio has no real Democratic paper?

THE verdict of the Jury Saturday morning in the Mason Circuit Court, sentencing CHESTER SAVAGE to a term of six years in the Penitentiary for the murder of his uncle, Mr. WILLIAM L. SAVAGE, at Fernleaf two years ago, should meet with popular approval.

Although the murderer is now a mere youth, and at the time of his bloody and wanton act was only 14 years of age, yet we see no extenuating circumstances influencing the crime.

The boy is sharper than he looks, and if there is any truth in his vulgar remarks when the "wise alienists" examined his perverted mentality, it would be monstrously unwise to turn him loose, or even place him in the Reform School where he might have another spell of blood-thirstiness and run amuck again with gun or knife.

This murder was one of the most mysterious in the annals of crime in Mason county.

That the boy had some reason, known only to himself, for murdering his uncle, we have no cause to doubt, and during the six years period of his confinement, the real animus behind the act may come to light.

Of course, sympathy goes out to his aged father, and he will do all in his power to gain freedom for his son, but the law is framed to protect society from just such fiends as this boy appears to be, and any of us may be murdered when we least expect it should drastic Justice be not meted out promptly and effectively.

Let Justice awake in Kentucky.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

Rosy Pictures of Profits Prove to Be a Pipe Dream.

Those who complain that the city already has debts enough should bear in mind that the water plant debt is not a debt, but an asset. At least that is what we were told a few years ago, when we were in the hysterical process of acquiring a wornout plant, which today needs two or three hundred thousand dollars in the way of repairs and improvements.

But the people are finding out the difference now. They are paying just as much for water as they did under the old system, and at the same time they are being taxed to pay interest on the plant and for repairs. The city used to receive taxes on the plant. Now it does not receive anything except free water for the city hall and a few other city institutions. There are also several thousand people who are helping to pay interest and repairs and purchase price on a plant from which they do not receive any benefits at all since the water is not brought to them.

They used to tell us in large letters that the plant was not only able to pay for itself out of its earnings, but the surplus could be used to build city halls and bridges and beautify the city until it should resemble a modern paradise.

All these dreams are now jokes. We are up against the real facts, and the management of the water plant has not been such as to make any of them realizations as yet, and there is no promise that they will be realized in the future. But these things should not discourage us. We should regard the water plant debt as an asset, not a debt. Let us stick to that and be as happy as we can.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Republican.

DECEITFUL APPEARANCES.

Municipal Mismanagement Masquerades as Municipal Munificence.

Speaking of robbery, there is a point of municipal ethics that has hitherto been ignored, but is now being given some attention in England and the United States. When the rates charged by municipal plants are too low to cover the cost of operation, maintenance and investment the deficiency must be made up by taxation, a part (and frequently a large part) of which falls on those who derive no benefit from the plant. Their money is taken from them arbitrarily to enable some of their fellow citizens to get their electricity, gas or water below cost.

This is manifestly unfair, but it is no more unfair than the reverse process, which is more common in England than in this country. There they rob the depreciation and reserve funds of the municipal plants to "relieve the rates"—i. e., decrease the tax levy—or accomplish the same result by raising the price of gas or electricity, thus compelling the users of these commodities to bear more than their share of the city's expenses.

These methods of municipal dishonesty, contrary though they are in their effect upon the consumer, are alike in that they make it appear that the city is doing more for its citizens than a private company would do. But it is only another case where appearances are deceitful.

Fearful of Competition.

The water supplied by the municipal waterworks of Toronto, Canada, is not above suspicion. Up to a short time ago official analyses were made of the water and published so that the people might use their own discretion as to using it without boiling. The publication of analyses has been stopped by the authorities lest, according to the Toronto Star, the analyses should be used as a means of frightening people and possibly of inducing them to buy bottled drinking water from a private company. This action caused the Star to exclaim:

"This is paternalism gone mad. The people have a right to know the quality of the water they are drinking and with this knowledge in their possession to act upon their own judgment." Comment cannot emphasize the force of these statements.—Public Service.

Spoken From Experience.

A private company can get better results than can be obtained out of a municipal plant. It is not bound down by any such restrictions as the eight hour law; the officials of the company see to it that there is no waste or loafing, because it is a commercial project there is more efficiency, and as a result any of the lighting companies of this city can sell us light cheaper than we can make it. There is proof in my own office here that it costs the city more to do its business than if it were a private concern. If the finance department was a commercial house, as it really ought to be, and was under the system which prevails in large financial houses the department would cost the city just about half what it costs now.—Comptroller Metz of New York.

Cost Far Above Estimate.

If the advocates of municipal ownership are as far off in their promises of cheaper lights as they were in the estimation of the cost of the plant and the time of its installation, the people of Ligonier will pay dearly for their fun. We were told that $15,000 would pay the bills, but the lowest bid that is being considered by the council is within a few dollars of $25,000. We were promised that the plant would be put in at once. It is now seven months, and still nothing is being done, and the city is in darkness.—Editorial in Ligonier (Ind.) Banner.

An increase of 25 per cent in the rates has just been put into effect by the commissioners of the municipal waterworks of Lockport, N. Y.

DENIES THAT BRYAN

"COULD DO NO HARM."

Congressman Burke Says Office of President Is Infinitely More Powerful Than Congress.

Congressman James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh in an address on "The Powers of the President" says:

"The American people can make no greater mistake than to elect Mr. Bryan on the assumption that he can do no harm in the face of an adverse senate. As between the executive and legislative departments of the government, the former has infinitely greater power to rule and ruin than the latter."

"Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan are wholly different types of men. Each possesses a strong individual character, which would certainly assert itself in the White House. What either of these men would do during a four years' term in the White House is causing as much anxiety among thoughtful Americans as the mere matter of the election alone."

"As a disturber of moneys the president is without a rival in the world. Through the agencies under his control he will this year disburse a billion dollars, showing the great things we are doing in adding to the unparalleled list of the world's achievements."

"In view of the fact that during the fifteen years of Bryan leadership the states controlled by his party have decreased from 23 to 12, the number of senators from 48 to 31, the number of representatives in congress from 220 to 164 and in that time the Democratic party was in control of the ground, whereas it is now, as a consequence of his teachings, a hopelessly heterogeneous mass of Populist elements, the American people can see little prospects of a constructive policy if Mr. Bryan should succeed."

Russianizing America.

The ordinary citizen whose relations with the postoffice are as far off in their promises of cheaper lights as they were in the estimation of the cost of the plant and the time of its installation, the people of Ligonier will pay dearly for their fun. We were told that $15,000 would pay the bills, but the lowest bid that is being considered by the council is within a few dollars of $25,000. We regard with amused contempt the efforts of the Russian bureaucracy to keep the people in ignorance by blackening out from foreign papers such paragraphs as its officials regard as likely to be injurious. But most of us are not aware that a similar system is relentlessly carried on by our own bureaucracy, the only difference being that an issue which offends in a single paragraph or advertisement is returned in toto to the publisher. Of the two methods the Russian is the more intelligent and the less oppressive.

The re-opening is to be made a notable occasion and the remaining debt of about $1,000 is to be wiped out entirely.

Those interested in the Church are requested and expected to attend and bring well-filled baskets for the entertainment of the multitude.

Had the wife succeeded in reaching the interior of the caboose before the ignoble flight of the guilty ones, there is little doubt but that an ambulance would have been necessary to meet the requirements of the occasion.

In some manner his better half was informed of his deception, and in order to verify or disprove the ill reports, she came here to investigate, and astounding was the result. Saturday she landed here unheralded, and accompanied by her sister, she wended her way to the rendezvous, which happened to be the caboose attached to his train, almost ready to start on a Southbound run.

As she approached, her ears caught the sound of mirth and revelry going on within, which so aroused her wifely indignation and enraged her to a pitch that she began spitting fire and saying naughty and direful things. She was carrying a hand satchel, which evidently contained something, and that something was liable to be heard from when in action, judging from her remarks.

The occupants, which consisted of two gilded, giddy ladies and several of the male gender, evidently had warning of a coming storm in consequence of the thunder and lightning taking place on the outside, and having in mind the trueism "that discretion is the better part of valor," made a precipitate and inglorious retreat, the husband taking a header out of a door and over a cinder car, and never stopping in his mad flight until he reached Watkins' Cut, where he was later picked up by his outgoing train. The ladies made a leap for life and skidded down a 20-foot embankment and disappeared in the willows abounding in the vicinity.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Maysville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy or sharp and acute tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

Here's Maysville proof: Mrs. Harvey Lyons, living in the Western part of Maysville, Ky., says:

"In my estimation Doan's Kidney Pills are an ideal kidney remedy, and I have no hesitancy in so expressing myself. My husband was bothered a great deal by a severe pain across his back, and although his condition was never so serious that he was obliged to lay off from work, he nevertheless was in misery. An added source of annoyance was the irregular action of the kidney secretions, this symptom denoting that his trouble arose from disordered kidneys. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and they acted just as beneficially in his case as in many others which he had read about. A short use entirely cured him, and up to the present time there has been no return of the trouble. Recently I was suddenly afflicted with a similar trouble, but began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and from the beneficial results already received I look forward to a complete cure."
